AN IQAC INITIATIVE

ABOUT CHANAKYA NATIONAL LAW UNIVERSITY

CNLU, Patna has been established by CNLU Act, 2006 (Act No. 24 of 2006) passed by Bihar State Government in 2006. Situated in Patna, the capital city of Bihar, where the seeds of the earliest republic were sown and the crop of democracy was cultivated, a need was felt by the government for a university which would provide quality legal education and strive to raise national legal standards to competitive international level and promote legal awareness in the community, which will lead to the realization of goals embodied in the Constitution of India. The University has since its establishment traversed a long journey of realizing its goal of spreading awareness in the field of legal education and produced deft lawyers with outstanding credentials. The University provides adequate facilities to all its students and a number of retired Judges of the Supreme Court, High Courts and lower Judiciary as well as Senior Advocates & Educationalist have offered to assist the CNLU in its teaching and research programmes making education at CNLU a rare and exciting experience to the student body.

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

Chanakya National Law University is organizing a one day National Seminar on “Intellectual Property Rights: Emerging Issues and Challenges” which focuses on creating a nation-wide conversation providing an opportunity to students, academicians, law professionals and all other stakeholders to put forward their research and share their knowledge on wide range of topics relating to Intellectual Property Rights and related subjects.

The purpose of the Seminar is to provoke discussion and debate on a range of topics and including subjects like Patent of Life Forms, Standard Essential Patents, geographical indications, traditional knowledge protection, amongst others. The agenda is kept deliberately broad and the discussions are intended to be accessible to a general audience.

The Seminar program offers high-level content relevant not only to students pursuing law or any other academic degree but also to young innovators from different fields; advocates, policy advisors, academicians, judicial officers and a range of government and non-government organizations to engage in a dialogue on protection and commercialization of Intellectual Property. Through this initiative, we want our students and faculty to develop a broader perspective of their responsibility to society and to give them an opportunity to listen to experiences, researches and findings of our esteemed panel of speakers, guests, academicians as well as students.

The Seminar will also provide a unique opportunity for lawyers and associated professional members in the region to exchange insights, explore current policy and practice issues, and exposure to a professional network of colleagues with shared interests and expertise.

CONCEPT NOTE

Intellectual Property Rights has been high on the agenda of the policymakers these days and there has been a wide and ongoing debate on the nature and scope of these rights. WIPO has defined these rights as rights accruing from creations of mind. But, the value of Intellectual Property does not lie merely in creation and development rather in its commercialization. Intellectual Property is a powerful commercial asset whose commercialization is yet to be fully developed in India.

Though, Indian Law has travelled a very long way in providing protection to different kinds of Intellectual Property creations; the condition and circumstances of gaining protection and commercializing these rights remain vulnerable. The primary reason behind this is lack of awareness and the cumbersome process of getting protection to these rights which has led to numerous incidents of plagiarism, stealing of traditional knowledge of local communities, amongst others. Large scale schemes and programs spreading awareness among people including communities and students is the need of the hour. Also, there should be a move to integrate universities with research as the purpose of higher education is to create a scientific and innovative mind for further research which comes under the head of “Public Funding of IP”. A Bill was introduced in 2008 to realize this scheme, which would engage the students in a scientific environment while creating a network of research and innovation involving different sections of people like, individual scientists, young innovators as well as the forest dwellers who could submit their work to the institution which would in return commercialize the particular Intellectual Property. But, such scheme is yet to be realized and we are steps away from commercializing our nation’s precious intellectual property assets and realizing our goal of creating a scientific temperament.
